Please leave my XM radio alone! I regularly commute between Washington, DC and Richmond, Virginia. You may not be aware how extremely difficult this trip is. I have come to rely on the XM instant traffic and weather, because critical decisions need to be made enroute. Waiting 10 or 15 minutes for a traffic report can mean that, at highway speeds, I may have missed an opportunity to take an alternate route.

XM provides a wonderful service, at a reasonable price. There is nothing on broadcast radio that can compare. Please do not interfere with this great product.

Best Regards,
